Analytic determinacy

António Fernandes
(Instituto Superior Técnico, Universidade de Lisboa)

Abstract:

The purpose of this talk (eventually a series of talks) is to exhibit a proof (by Donald Martin) that analytic determinacy holds under a certain large cardinal hypothesis. In fact we intend to convey a little bit more than just the content of this proof, we will try to enlighten the deep connection between determinacy, which is a game related concept, and the theory of definable sets of reals.
